

FAQs on E-Levy

Q1. What is the E-Levy?

The E-levy is a tax imposed on transfers charged at the time of transfer. The levy shall be administered by the GRA and collected through licensed Banks, Specialized Deposit-Taking Institutions, Payment Service Providers (PSPs), and Electronic Money Issuers (EMIs).

Q2. What is the rate of the levy and how will it be applied?

The levy is currently 1.50% of the value of the electronic transfer.

The levy will be applied on the value (amount) of transfer above GHS 100 on a daily basis. That is, after One Hundred Ghana Cedis (GHS 100) a day cumulative transfer, the e-levy will be applied. In other words, if the total amount sent in a day is not more than GHS 100, you will not pay E-levy.

Q3. What transactions fall under the E-Levy?

a. Transfers done on the same mobile money network

Example: Sending money from your MTN Momo wallet to another person's MTN Momo wallet.

b. Transfers from one mobile money network to a recipient on another network

Example: Sending money from your MTN Momo wallet to another person's Vodafone Cash wallet.

c. Transfers from bank accounts to mobile money accounts:

Example: Ama transfers money from her OmniBSIC Bank account to Kofi's AirtelTigo Cash Wallet

d. Transfers from mobile money accounts to bank accounts:

f. Walk in Mobile money transfers at OmniBSIC Teller Points

Q4. Are some transactions exempted from the E-Levy?

Yes. Not all transactions will be affected by the E-levy. The following transfers are exempted:

- a. Cumulative transfers of GHS 100 per day made by the same person:
Everyone has a daily tax-free threshold (limit) of GHS 100 - that is every person will be able to send up to GHS100 a day without the payment of the levy;
- b. Transfer between accounts owned by the same person:
If you are sending money to your own account (i.e., of the same person) then you will not be charged the E-Levy. A transfer from Kojo's AirtelTigo wallet to his MTN wallet or from his OmniBSIC Bank Account to his own OmniBSIC Bank Account or from his CBG Bank account to his OmniBSIC Bank account or from his savings account to his current or investment account, will not attract the levy.
- c. Transfers for the payment of taxes, fees, and charges:

- d. Transfers for the payment of taxes, fees, and charges:
Electronic Clearing of Cheques: Clearing of cheques by the banks and specialized deposit taking institutions such as the savings and loans companies etc. are excluded. By extension, SWIFT, ACH and GIS transfers are all exempted.
- e. Specified merchant payments:
Payments made to commercial establishments through a payment service (mobile money, bank application, Fintech etc.) to a person registered with the Ghana Revenue Authority for the purposes of income tax or valueadded tax is excluded. This applies to both online and physical sales.
- f. Transfers between principal, agent, and master-agent accounts: To avoid charging the levy multiple times transfers that pass through multiple service providers before they get to the actual recipient do not attract the levy.
